NIU/DLS NEWSLETTER

Northern Illinois University/Department of Library Science

Oak Street
UNCLASSIFIED

Number 3 April 1983

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR

It's always a joy to think about our graduates! How many times your feet must have crossed over the tiles in the south part of Swen Parson (the former library and location of the library science department), traveling to so many classes for so many times and so many hours taught by so many different instructors! Doesn't that bring back fond memories?

Some of our alums may not be aware that the department moved in August 1981. No longer are we crossing those sacred tiles of Swen Parson. That's now the domain of the Law School. The entire southern section of Swen Parson was remodeled and beautifully refurnished, and now contains Law School classrooms, faculty offices, and a moot court. You wouldn't recognize it from what it had been before, and you really should visit it to see for yourself.

We are now located on the second floor of Adams Hall, with the department office in Room 213. Overall, it's been a good move for us. The facilities are ample for the department office, faculty offices, graduate assistant offices, computer lab, cataloging lab, media lab, student lounge, and storage space. Why don't you come up and see us sometime? Or call us just to chat and let us know how you're getting along. The number is 753-1733. We'd be delighted to hear from you!

We appreciate the responses we received from our alums in reply to our January newsletter. On the basis of those responses, this newsletter will bring you up-to-date on the people from whom we heard. In future issues we hope to continue to keep you informed. So keep the news coming! Let us know where you are, what you're doing, any "newsy" items about yourself!

This issue also contains recent news about our current faculty and other news about the department which I'm sure will be of interest to you. We're grateful to Professor David Shavit, who is the editor of this issue. Let us know what you think of it, and if there are any ways in which we may help you.

Alumni responses to our query regarding an annual alumni get-together were favorable. The majority of those who responded said "Yes." Spring was the preferred time of year, with Fall not far behind. Saturday was the preferred day of the week, and Friday ran a close second. Luncheon was the preferred meal function, although a number of persons indicated a preference for dinner. We're now in the process of forming an alumni committee to proceed with plans for this get-together. We'll have to determine whether there's time to arrange it yet for this Spring. We'll give further details as soon as possible.

Other information about alumni which may interest you: Although the majority of our graduates are in Illinois, we do have at least 29 alums in at least 18 other states and one in Singapore. Based on 97 responses, 35 persons are working in public libraries, 21 in school libraries, 12 in special libraries, 13 in academic libraries, 8 are in non-library positions, 5 are retired, and 4 are homemakers.

Keep in touch!

ALICE H. HICKS ENDOWMENT FUND

Alice Hoover Hicks (1970), has established an endowment during her lifetime to help support students in library science. A school teacher and librarian, she is presently retired in Sterling, Illinois. The income from the endowment will be used to fund one or more scholarships for NIU students who are pursuing a master's degree in the Department of Library Science.

Alice H. Hicks provided the newsletter with the following personal note:

> I started out as an elementary school secretary and after having been married six years and out of high school ten years, I decided to go to college. My husband was agreeable, and since we had lost two babies at birth, it seemed if I was going to teach, it would have to be someone else's children.
>
> I was fortunate to find a good home in DeKalb with President and Mrs. Leslie A. Holmes. Each week I left my home in Sterling (60 miles from DeKalb) on Monday morning and returned Friday evening. My husband came to see me on Wednesdays for "date night". We continued this arrangement, summer and fall, until I received my Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education.
>
> I received my degree on June 3rd, entered the hospital on the 4th and gave birth to our son on the 15th, 1956. I kept up my certificate through substituting and returned for my Master's Degree in Library Science in 1966. Unfortunately, I fell on ice and fractured three bones in my ankle, thus was forced to withdraw. My interest never waned, and I received my Master's in June 1970 from N.I.U.
>
> I spent ten years in education as a kindergarten teacher and/or librarian. I set up six libraries in the rural schools and the Curriculum Library for Sterling Community Unit School District #5. I am now on a disability pension.
>
> I hope this scholarship will help someone, because my husband and I "lived on a shoestring" during my undergraduate days.

CHAIR CHANGES

Following the resignation of Sylvia G. Faibisoff, chair of the department since 1978, to accept the position of Director of the School of Library Science at the University of Oklahoma, Henry C. Dequin was appointed interim chair of the department, beginning August 16, 1982.

A search committee for a permanent chair was appointed in January, with Peggy Sullivan, Dean of the College of Professional Studies, as chair of this committee. It is hoped that a permanent chair will be selected soon.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

For the past several years the Department of Library Science has been advised by an Advisory Committee. Members of the Advisory Committee are:

DONALD ADCOCK, Director of Library Services, Glen Ellyn Public Schools, District No. 41; LILA BRADY, Executive Director, Northern Illinois Library System; VALERIE J. DOWNES, Director of Media Services, J., Sterling Morton High Schools, Cicero; CHRISTA EVEN, Director, Instructional Media Center, DeKalb High School; KATHRYN J. GESTERFIELD, Director, Illinois State Library; REBECCA GONZALEZ, Associate, Information Sciences, IIT Research Institute, Chicago; ROBERT McCLARREN, System Director, North Suburban Library System; ALICE E. McKINLEY, Executive Director, DuPage Library System; PEGGY O'DONNELL, Library Consultant in Education, Training, Planning and Evaluation, Chicago; JULIE VIRGO, Executive Director, ACRL, American Library Association; WILLIAM P. Williams, Interim Director, University Libraries, Northern Illinois University; BERNADETTE WINTER, Coordinator of Library Services, Rockford Board of Education, School

District No. 205; and DONALD WRIGHT, Director, Evanston Public Library.

The Advisory Committee met on Nov. 17, 1982, and gave valuable input regarding the department's program. Principal items discussed were the recommendations made by the American Library Association Committee on Accreditation and the Program Review in which the department is now engaged, together with all other units in the College of Professional Studies. The Advisory Committee suggested that the department change its name to the Department of Library and Information Science, in order to articulate better the thrust of the department and be in tune with the current general emphasis on information-related education. Other suggestions revolved around the image of the department, on-campus and off-campus courses, alumni, recruitment, and publicity.

COMING INSTITUTES

The Department of Library Science will conduct two institutes during April 1983, coordinated by the College of Continuing Education: A professional development seminar on "Microcomputers in Libraries and Media Centers" on April 13, 1983; and the 1983 children's literature institute on "Sharing the Joy of Literature With Children and Youth" on April 29 and April 30, 1983.

BETA PHI MU

Since June 1971, 40 of our graduates were admitted to this international honor society of librarians. Are the members of Beta Phi Mu interested in establishing a local chapter?

NIU ACHIEVEMENT FUND

You will shortly receive a letter regarding the Achievement Fund, or perhaps it has already arrived. We hope you will consider a contribution to this fund and designate it for the Library Science Department. It will help the department do some things it might otherwise not be able to do.
